Travers Walks Away From Kammer in Final For Metropolitan Title

Ex-Caddie Overwhelmed by Champion at Fox Hills—Veteran's Steadiness Feazes Youth—Big Crowd Out to See Match Despite Weather.

(Special to The Evening World.)
FOX HILLS GOLF LINKS, S. I., May 20.—Although it was thought the real climax of the Metropolitan Golf Championship at the Fox Hills links was reached yesterday in the semi-final, owing to the poorly balanced draw, there was a crowd out this morning when Jerome D. Travers and A. F. Kammer started on the double round for the final. Travers won with ease by 5 up and 7 to play.

With finals on in three other sets, and the annual Metropolitan handicap in progress, the course was alive with players. The weather was of the same threatening and unsettled sort that has prevailed throughout the week.

Several wagers were placed that Travers would end the struggle under thirty holes, by which estimate he would practically duplicate his unprecedented lead against Oswald Kirby last year. Others thought Travers could not keep up his putting pace of yesterday and would be well pushed.

On the first eighteen holes Travers made a walkway, Kammer seemed feazed by the skill and coolness of Travers and did not play anything like the game of which he is capable.

Score:
Travers, out 4 4 4 5 2 5 5 3 2 3 5—41
Kammer, out 4 4 4 5 2 6 4 4 4 4—41
Travers, in 4 4 4 5 2 5 5 3 2 3 5—41
Kammer, in 4 4 4 5 2 6 4 4 4 4—42

The first four holes were halved, the first and fourth in strict allowance. Then on the fifth Kammer ran down a four-foot putt from the rough for 2 to tie 3 amid cheers, and it began to look like a close match. However, it was a false alarm, for Travers captured the next four holes in succession. Travers had luck on the sixth, for his ball bounced over a trap while Kammer's low ball landed in the road. The latter got out well, but was short on his approach, while Travers riddled and then missed his putt. He took two for the cup, but at that was down in par five to six, squaring the match.

Kammer topped his drive on the seventh, doing eighty yards on tall grass. Travers had a low ball with the wood, but fortunately got over the road. Kammer recovered well, both reaching the green in three. Travers riddled the cup on a long putt while Kammer missed a short one. It was Travers's hole.

The tenth was a half in a regulation 4. Travers coming close to a 3 from near the edge of the green. Travers won the eleventh 4 to par 5 against a probable 6 for Kammer, who did not hole out. Travers on his second was close to the flag, possibly his finest stroke of the morning. Travers 4 up.

On the 14th Kammer failed to clear the high bank on his second, while Travers overran his approach. It was Travers's hole. However, par 5 to 3. Travers 5 up. Travers also won the 15th in a strict 4 to 3. Kammer was enough off on his direction to prevent him from getting down his putt. Travers 6 up.

Travers was close to a 2 on the 16th, but the hole was halved in par 3. Travers won the 17th, 3 to Kammer's par 4, being close to the cup on his second, while Kammer was away and then short. Travers 7 up. Travers made it 6 up on the 18th by taking a 3 to par 4 there, thanks to a heart-breaking putt.

MAX Marston, Baltusrol, was four up on Marston Barnes of Englewood in the first eighteen holes.

Gilman Tiffany, Powelton, was two up on P. H. Jennings, Richmond County, in the first eighteen holes. In the third set N. E. Sprague, Inwood, was one up on A. H. Harrison, New York Club, in the first eighteen holes.

In the annual Metropolitan Handicap Fred Herreshoff, Garden City, finished 2-3; Paul Moore, Morris County, 9-7; S. C. Matson, Ardsley, 10-7; A. M. Fearey, Richmond County, 4-4; N. E. Allen, Fox Hills, 5-4; H. A. B. Sterner, Inwood, 5-4; H. B. McClellan, Fox Hills, 10-10; E. N. Coffey, Fox Hills, 10-10; J. N. Woodson, Fox Hills, 10-10; A. P. Palmer, Fox Hills, 10-10; H. B. Slater, Fox Hills, 10-10; W. W. Taylor, Ardsley, 10-10; F. B. Barrett, Fox Hills, 10-10; E. G. B. Riley, Fox Hills, 10-10.

Travers won the title the fifth time. He beat Kammer 5 up and 7 to go in 36 holes. Card:

KINDERGARTEN HAS US GOING, SAYS HERRESHOFF.
"Believe me," said Fred Herreshoff, last night, as the tears large as cherries ran down his cheeks, "the kindergarten has got us going." By way of explanation it should be said the whirlwind yesterday in the Metropolitan championship at Fox Hills piled up the wreckage deepest in the beaten sixteen of the title set. Walter Travia, who had fallen into the second division, was on Thursday snuffed out on the home hole, one down, by a youngster whom he had thrashed down ending the thirteenth, while Fred Herreshoff, in the title set, had like van fallen before a fifty-year-old veteran on the home hole, and Gardiner White, in the same class, had succumbed after squaring his match on the sixteenth. John M. Ward also had yielded to a merely a little chance to a college youth.

The slaughter yesterday was redoubled. Ward lost on the home hole in the morning to a beardless kid from Long Island while yesterday afternoon Herreshoff was forced out on the seventeenth, two holes to the bad, by Marston, new Eastern intercollegiate champion. On seven holes did Marston sink his ball with one putt. On the previous round Marston had vanquished H. V. Gaines, second best out of ninety starters in the qualifying round.

As a matter of fact, local golfing history was made faster yesterday than can be recalled before, traditions and records being so ruthlessly knocked into shreds as to render the old guard speechless about the storm, towering serene in his power, stood Jerome D. Travers, the only spared monument of the past. The overthrew entered every corner of the stellar field with the violence of a tropical earthquake.

Thousands of dollars changed hands when Travers, in the third round, out the course record three strokes without hitting a tee shot yesterday. That he would have peeled off a fourth stroke had he not been lighted on a broken bottle in tall grass, is certain. To stir the bottle meant to move the ball, involving a penalty, so he was forced to chop out about a yard at the cost of a stroke.

The gallery had but one thought following the incident. Of what use is it to a player to clutch the water wagon when his ball gets hopelessly mixed with a shattered beer container? Like bottle, like hopes.

On his semi-final round, following Travers did 71, only a stroke worse, in disposing of Oswald Kirby, Jersey champion, accounted the strongest amateur in this country at medal play. Kirby needed 74 strokes. Travers's stroke total for the day was 34, ten strokes under his gold medal card in Wednesday's qualifying round.

Travers earned his place in the final by defeating Oswald Kirby of Englewood, 4 up, while Kammer came through at the expense of R. M. Wild of Cranford, the local man's margin being 4 and 3.
